Optimal protection against viruses at work, in everyday life and during leisure time

In the future, hygiene concepts will be more important than ever. Active protection against viruses and bacteria has come into focus, especially due to the Corona pandemic.

The CLEANKILL Hygienetube is the mobile hygiene solution at work, in everyday life and in leisure time. Thanks to the included yo-yo clip, the stick can be attached anywhere – practical and always at hand.

For the safe and lasting destruction of microbial organisms, it is sufficient to roll the hygiene stick between the hands. The effectiveness has been scientifically proven.

In addition, the stick is self-cleaning and dirt-repellent. Its high durability thus guarantees optimum protection in all situations.

Ideal for personnel in public buildings, offices, production facilities, supermarkets, educational institutions and other similar workplaces. Also ideally suited for private use; e.g. when shopping, playing sports or on public transport.

How the Hygiene-tube works

The CLEANKILL Hygienetube releases small amounts of the antiviral protection formula when in contact with normal skin moisture; a mixture of extremely strong soap and ions. The envelope of the viruses is destroyed by the soap. The released ions provide long-lasting protection on the skin against harmful microbes. While conventional disinfectants quickly evaporate and cause skin irritation, CLEANKILL provides safe, long-lasting protection without attacking the skin – without any sticky or slippery skin sensation.

Even easier than washing your hands!

Hygiene can be this practical!

With the yo-yo clip, the hygiene stick can be attached to a bag, belt or similar. Flexible, practical and always at hand.

Simply roll the hygiene tube between your hands. Normal skin moisture releases the antiviral protective formula.
